Educational Activities

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals® (ASPCA®) was the first humane society to be established in North America and is, today, one of the largest in the world. Our organization was founded on the belief that animals are entitled to kind and respectful treatment at the hands of humans and must be protected under the law. Headquartered in New York City, the ASPCA maintains a strong local presence, and with programs that extend our anti-cruelty mission across the country, we are recognized as a national animal welfare organization. We are a privately funded 501(c)(3) not-for-profit corporation, and are proud to boast more than 2 million supporters across the country. The ASPCA's mission, as stated by founder Henry Bergh in 1866, is "to provide effective means for the prevention of cruelty to animals throughout the United States."

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

The purpose of this trip is to show Senate staff what higher-welfare farming systems look like, how they differ from the conventional model that dominates our food system, and what can be done to support their growth and success into the future. Accordingly, the ASPCA has identified the three farms featured on this trip and organized all of the logistics required to facilitate the travel to and from the farms.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

The ASPCA is dedicated to preventing cruelty to dogs, cats, equines and farm animals throughout the United States. As part of that mission, the ASPCA works to improve the lives of farm animals by supporting the transition to a more humane food system. The majority of animals raised for food in the U.S. are currently raised on conventional "factory farms," where they are denied the space or enrichments to carry out even their most basic natural behaviors. The ASPCA calls for a move away from these inhumane systems and toward higher-welfare and pasture-based farming.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?

Flag Status: Flagged

Friends,

You recently received an email from the Senate Ethics Travel Portal (subject line: Ethics Private Sponsor Travel Portal: American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals), inviting you to join us on May 19, 2023, as we visit three farms about an hour's drive from Washington D.C. that produce fruits, vegetables, dairy, and meat, using regenerative and pasture-based practices.

The tour will depart Capitol Hill at 9:15 AM and return by 4:30 PM with transportation and refreshments provided.

PLEASE RSVP by April 14th HERE

This is an important year to take a deeper look at the policies and programs that shape our farm and food system. At the ASPCA, that begins with talking to farmers and ranchers about how we can support farms using more sustainable and higher-welfare practices. We want to share that experience with you, so we have organized a tour of Holterholm Farms and Open Book Farm in Maryland, and Georges Mill Farm in Virginia.

We will be joined along the way by local and national experts on farming and farm policy to help connect the dots between on-the-ground practices and federal programs that support farmers.

This event is designed to comply with Senate Ethics Committee (ethics.senate.gov) rules.

- Individuals must seek Senate Ethics Committee approval to attend the tour. For more information regarding requirements and forms please visit: <https://www.ethics.senate.gov/public/index.cfm/travel>
- YOU MUST REQUEST APPROVAL THROUGH THE SENATE ETHICS COMMITTEE PRIVATELY SPONSORED TRAVEL (PST) PORTAL APP BY APRIL 19TH.

Please register by completing this RSVP form no later than April 14th.

Please let us know if you are unable to attend or if another staff person from your office should be invited by emailing jacqueline.west@aspc.org.

ABOUT THE ASPCA

Founded in 1866, the ASPCA® (The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals®) was the first animal welfare organization to be established in North America and today serves as the nation's leading voice for animals. As a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit corporation with more than two million supporters nationwide, the ASPCA is committed to preventing cruelty to dogs, cats, equines, and farm animals throughout the United States.

ABOUT THE FARMS

Georges Mill Farm: An eighth generation family farm in Loudoun County, Virginia, producing farmstead cheeses, caramel, gelato, soaps, and pork with a focus on pasture and browse.

Open Book Farm: A first generation family farm in Middletown, Maryland raising pasture-raised pork, chicken, turkey, and eggs, certified organic vegetables, and 100% grass-fed beef.

Holterholm Farms: A fifth generation certified-organic, pasture-based seasonal dairy in Jefferson, MD producing milk and eggs.

Agenda

- 9:15 AM: Leave U.S. Botanical Gardens, 100 Maryland Ave SW, Washington, DC 20001 to head to Georges Mill Farm at 11873 Georges Mill Rd, Lovettsville, VA 20180
 - Tour participants will be traveling with a few farmers and issue experts, including Craig Watts of the Socially Responsible Agriculture Project, Kara Shannon and Adam Mason of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Jake Davis of Local Root Strategies, Greg Gunthorp of Gunthorp Farms, Samantha Gasson of Bull City Farms and Food Animal Concerns Trust, Dan Honig of Happy Valley Meat, Ben Lilliston of the Institute for Agriculture and Trade Policy, Gabby Ross of Assateague Coastkeeper, and Patti Anderson of John Hopkins Center for a Livable Future. We expect conversations related to farming practices and the impact of government programs on farm success and growth to occur during travel to and between stops.
- 10:30 AM - 10:45 AM: Arrive at Georges Mill Farm
- 10:45 AM - 11:45 AM: Tour of Georges Mill Farm led by farmer Molly Kroiz
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, dairy production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm. A few farmers from the area have also been invited to share their experiences about interacting with federal agencies.
- 11:45 AM: Leave for Open Book Farm at 6600 B Roy Shafer Rd, Middletown, MD 21769
- 12:15 PM: Arrive at Open Book Farm
- 12:15 PM – 1:00 PM: Tour of Open Book Farm led by farmer Mary Kathryn “MK” Barnet
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, animal and crop production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm.
- 1:00 PM - 1:45 PM: Lite lunch and facilitated conversation at Open Book Farm
 - ASPCA staff will facilitate conversations with the farmers and issue experts named above, as well as Lea Howe of DC Greens. They will connect the dots between government programs and agencies like those administered by USDA and the food system they help create.
- 1:45 PM: Leave for Holterholm Farms at 5903 Holter Rd, Jefferson, MD 21755
- 1:55 PM: Arrive at Holterholm Farms
- 1:55 PM - 2:45 PM: Tour of Holterholm Farms led by farmer Ron Holter
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, dairy production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm. Holterholm Farms is also a member of the Organic Valley Dairy Cooperative. Organic Valley representatives Mat Haan, the PA-Mid Regional Pool Manager, and Gerry Cohn, the East Division Pool Manager, will also be in attendance to share the collective experience of their members through a nationwide supply chain.
- 2:45 PM: Leave to return to DC
 - On the bus, farmers Craig Watts (Socially Responsible Agriculture) and Greg Gunthorp (Gunthorp Farms) will share how their experience raising animals in other types of production systems is similar or different from those at the three farms visited on the tour.
- 4:30 PM: Arrive back at U.S. Botanical Gardens, 100 Maryland Ave SW, Washington, DC 20001

Agenda

- 9:15 AM: Leave DC to head to Georges Mill Farm in Lovettsville, VA
 - Tour participants will be traveling with a few farmers and issue experts. We expect conversations related to farming practices and the impact of government programs on farm success and growth to occur during travel to and between stops.
- 10:30 AM - 10:45 AM: Arrive at Georges Mill Farm
- 10:45 AM - 11:45 AM: Tour of Georges Mill Farm led by farmer Molly
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, dairy production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm. A few farmers from the area have also been invited to share their experiences about interacting with federal agencies.
- 11:45 AM: Leave for Open Book Farm in Middletown, MD
- 12:15 PM: Arrive at Open Book Farm
- 12:15 PM – 1:00 PM: Tour of Open Book Farm led by farmer MK
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, animal and crop production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm.
- 1:00 PM - 1:45 PM: Lite lunch and facilitated conversation at Open Book Farm
 - ASPCA staff will facilitate a panel discussion of policy experts and potential policymakers (panelist TBD) to connect the dots between government programs and agencies like those administered by USDA and the food system they help create.
- 1:45 PM: Leave for Holterholm Farms
- 1:55 PM: Arrive at Holterholm Farms
- 1:55 PM - 2:45 PM: Tour of Holterholm Farms led by farmer Ron
 - Tour participants will hear about the farm's history, animal welfare practices, dairy production methods, and experience navigating the marketplace and reaching consumers. The farmer will highlight government-administered programs utilized to support the farm. Holterholm Farms is also a member of the Organic Valley Dairy Cooperative. Organic Valley representatives will also be in attendance to share the collective experience of their members through a nationwide supply chain.
- 2:45 PM: Leave to return to DC
 - On the bus a few farmers from across the country will share how their experience raising animals in other types of production systems is similar or different from those at the three farms visited on the tour.
- 4:30 PM: Arrive back in DC

Subject: You are Invited to Join the ASPCA for a tour to meet local farmers and farm leaders from across the country

Friends,

On May 19, 2023, we will visit three farms about an hour's drive from Washington D.C. that produce fruits, vegetables, dairy, and meat, using regenerative and pasture-based practices.

The tour will depart Capitol Hill at 9:15 AM and return by 4:30 PM with transportation and refreshments provided.

PLEASE RSVP by April 14th HERE

This is an important year to take a deeper look at the policies and programs that shape our farm and food system. At the ASPCA, that begins with talking to farmers and ranchers about how we can support farms using more sustainable and higher-welfare practices. We want to share that experience with you, so we have organized a tour of Holterholm Farms and Open Book Farm in Maryland, and Georges Mill Farm in Virginia.

We will be joined along the way by local and national experts on farming and farm policy to help connect the dots between on-the-ground practices and federal programs that support farmers.

This event is designed to comply with Senate Ethics Committee (ethics.senate.gov) rules.

- Individuals must seek Senate Ethics Committee approval to attend the tour. For more information regarding requirements and forms please visit:
<https://www.ethics.senate.gov/public/index.cfm/travel>
- YOU MUST REQUEST APPROVAL THROUGH THE SENATE ETHICS COMMITTEE PRIVATELY SPONSORED TRAVEL (PST) PORTAL APP BY APRIL 19TH.*

Please register by completing this RSVP form no later than April 14th.

Please let us know if you are unable to attend or if another staff person from your office should be invited by emailing jacqueline.west@aspca.org.

ABOUT THE ASPCA

Founded in 1866, the ASPCA® (The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals®) was the first animal welfare organization to be established in North America and today serves as the nation's leading voice for animals. As a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit corporation with more than two million supporters nationwide, the ASPCA is committed to preventing cruelty to dogs, cats, equines, and farm animals throughout the United States.

ABOUT THE FARMS

Georges Mill Farm: An eighth generation family farm in Loudoun County, Virginia, producing farmstead cheeses, caramel, gelato, soaps, and pork with a focus on pasture and browse.

Open Book Farm: A first generation family farm in Middletown, Maryland raising pasture-raised pork, chicken, turkey, and eggs, certified organic vegetables, and 100% grass-fed beef.

Holterholm Farms: A fifth generation certified-organic, pasture-based seasonal dairy in Jefferson, MD producing milk and eggs.
